SEV - Gewerkschaft des Verkehrspersonals

Since march 2004 all members of GATA have been part of SEV.

Founded in 1919 as ‚Schweizerischer Eisenbahnerverband‘ the SEV has developed into the biggest Swiss Transport Workers' Union with more than 42'000 members. The SEV is the politically, economically independent and non-denominational professional organisation for all public transport (öV) workers.

As the umbrella organisation of all employees of transport companies on land, at sea and in the air the SEV takes care of the professional interests of its members. The SEV negotiates with employers, cantons, federal- and local governments on behalf of the active workers, trainees and pensioners and fights for their rights, demands and wishes. The SEV listens to the problems of its members and works out solutions. The SEV helps ensuring social security.

SEV members benefit from a wide range of services in the social, professional and cultural field. With the legal protection at work the members can count on the support of the SEV lawyers. They help settle legal differences. Furthermore the SEV offers its members material- and personal insurance at attractive conditions, a wide choice of training opportunities, good vacation- and leisure-time activities in Switzerland and abroad and many more.

GATA Groundstaff Aviation Technics and Administration

The Air Traffic Union SEV-GATA takes care of the interests of its members. Starting as SWISS Groundstaff Union SEV-GATA has gained a profound know-how in the crisis-ridden aviatic business.

Following the deeply rooted union structures in the companies SEV-GATA will also get involved in other air traffic companies affected by staff relocations and shiftings.

With the SEV our union has found a strong partner to support our expansion strategy and help intensifying our successful efforts for all workers in this sector.

SEV-GATA, your trade union, speaks up for: job security and good working conditions. With clear positions and a fair negotiating style SEV-GATA has already reached significant results in the past.

As a member you also benefit from attractive services. Legal advice: We advise you in all legal questions concerning your employer-employee relationship. Legal protection: In questions of industrial law and social insurance you are represented by our lawyers free of charge. Multi-legal protection: mainly covering traffic-, private-, tenants' and consumers' rights at an unbeatable price of Fr 78.-- per year. Information: Regular information on all company events and the world of employment on our homepage: www.sev-gata.ch or in our journal.

As you can see it's worth joining SEV-GATA!

Please send your application and help us make our union stronger. With a monthly fee of Fr 18.40 you are one of us. By the way: if you enlist new members in the future, you will obtain Fr. 50.- as a gift – for every enlisted member.
